

About Luis Argerich

Luis Argerich.

You can reach me at: lrargerich@yahoo.com

(29) I live in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

I'm one of the starters of the Tikiwiki project, I wrote most of the sloppy code that other fellow developers are now helping to fix, mantain and improve.

Current activities:

- Teacher at the University of Buenos Aires (U.B.A.)
- Developer for a US company from its office in Buenos Aires
- Contributor to open source projects like Tikiwiki and others.

Some Open source projects

- Creator of the PHPXMLClasses project, a set of classes for XML processing from PHP
- Creator and mantainer of several Smarty plugins
- Creator and developer of Tikiwiki
- Developer of the PHP RDF parser
- Developer of PHP-Talo and the pXp project

Some books:

- Professional PHP4 XML
- Professional PHP4 Web Development Solutions
- Professional Php 4
- And a Smarty book that never saw the light.

Some writings and articles:

- Object Oriented Programming in PHP: The way to large PHP projects
- Object Oriented Programming in PHP
- Providing Web Services using WDDX

Some talks and conferences where I went as a Speaker

- (2003) IV Jornadas del software libre (Montevideo, Uruguay)
- (2002) ApacheCon 2002 (Santa Clara, California)

A contest I won (!)

- Word Find Puzzle