Jonny Bradley

Developer

I am a freelance developer/programmer based in London, UK. I have been using Tiki since 2002 and have gradually become a regular contributor to the project.

I championed the inclusion of JQuery as the de-facto JavaScript library within Tiki and have been working on widening the use of it and adding new features such as jquery.mobile in Tiki 7.0.

I was Release coordinator for Tiki 6.x to 8.x and assisting in releases since then. I am also a member of the Admin Team.

Most of my work on Tiki has been related to the front-end user-experience, rather than back-end functionality, and I come from a TV production and design background. Over the years I have tried most of the programming languages at some point, with most experience recently being in PHP, JavaScript especially with jquery and Java and I am currently (gradually) adding VueJS to Tiki.

Finally, here is my Tiki Consultant info page, my LinkedIn page and me on Open Hub.
